Job Description - Library Support Assistant (220002MH)

Library Support Assistant

(Job Number: 220002MH)

LIBRARY SUPPORT ASSISTANT (Education Library Service)

Would you like to make a difference to the lives of children, families and schools in Cornwall? Would you like to be involved in supporting children's literacy across the county? Do you have an interest in how library services work behind the scenes, where no day is the same? If you answer yes to these questions, then this exciting opportunity may be for you. The Education Library Service (ELS) is looking for a forward-thinking, creative and ambitious person, who loves sharing reading with children and families, to join the ELS team.

The main purpose of this role is to work as part of the ELS team to deliver library services to primary schools in Cornwall. You will visit schools to carry out work in school libraries, process book stock and project box requests, carry out administration tasks and be part of delivering events and activities for school children. The role will also have the opportunity to work with the EY library and the Library Resources team to gain knowledge, skills and expertise across the library service.

The ideal candidate for this role needs to be experienced at adapting to change and implementing new and exciting ideas and processes to help to achieve a dynamic and innovative service.

This role is pivotal to providing the highest level of customer care in all areas and working to deliver the Council outcomes of 'A Brilliant Place to be a Child' and 'Vibrant, Safe, Supportive Communities' as well as the "Get it Right First Time" ethos that is continually strived for within the council.

You will need computer skills that enable you to use our Library Management system (training will be given for this), Outlook and Excel.

The role can be physically demanding due to lifting and shifting of books and some days being on your feet for long periods of time.

Cornwall Council has recently completed a review of how we pay and reward our staff and these changes take effect from 1 October 2022 (unless otherwise stated). For more information please visit Pay and Grading Review (Green Book Roles) - Cornwall Council
