DEVORAN NEWS

Message from the Head

Dear Parents and Carers

We are all well and truly back into the swing of things now and with the drier weather it's been lovely seeing the children out and about at playtimes and lunchtimes. There's another cold snap due this week, but it shouldn't cause too much disruption.

There are lots of creative things happening within the school. Year 6 launched this term's Performance Art Sessions with a visit from the famous children's' author Sally Crabtree and Music Magpie teacher, Jo Fitzgerald. Sally and Jo inspired the children to create edible poems (rice paper words on a biscuit) and helped them to plan their future 'Gig in a Box' watch this space! We are entering the Cornwall Music Festival again this year and so if your child has expressed a wish to enter, you will be receiving more details very shortly.

Best wishes

Anna Morris

YOUNG WRITER
COMPETITION

The Young Writer Competition is open to all the children and is a wonderful opportunity to use their imagination and creativity. The theme this year is 'Rebuilding'. Entries can be factual, fiction, prose or poetry, handwritten or typed. The word limit is 550 for prose and 40 lines for poetry – no pictures or drawings.

Please find more information and the entry form attached to this email.

Good luck everyone!
